

South Bank heads to Greater Springfield

Greater Springfield's own South Bank style swimming lagoon is on track to be completed in time for this year's summer with Council approving the final design.

The impressive undertaking, which is now under construction, represents Stage 2 of the already popular Robelle Domain Parklands and will face Mirvac's shopping precinct expansion and region's biggest cinema-complex.

As big as Brisbane's South Bank, the lagoon system will have more than 150 meters of waters that snake their way through Greater Springfield's inner CBD.

The project presents yet another potential economic boom for local businesses and tourism with an independent Urbis report expecting as many as 91,000 visitors to the facility annually.
