

Brookwater searches for next Greg Norman

Children who may be looking to follow in the footsteps of Greg Norman should attend Junior Golf Clinics at Brookwater Golf Club for some valuable experience.

With the increasing popularity of golf among children, the Junior Golf Clinics are being offered in response to high demand from schools and parents seeking golf tuition for their children.

Brookwater Golf Teaching Professionals Tom Berndt and Tony Mahoney said they looked forward to running the sessions and providing handy tips and advice to the aspiring golfers.

"While it is important for the kids to pick up some golfing skills, our main focus is on having fun and ensuring that everybody enjoys themselves," Mr Berndt said.

"This is a fantastic opportunity for young people to get involved with this great sport while enjoying the facilities of Queensland's leading golf course.

"We've had a great response so far with classes filling up quickly.

"The children love learning to play golf and also enjoy the prizes we offer at the end of each class."

All equipment is supplied free of charge including tees, golf balls and new Srixon golf clubs which have been specially adjusted for children aged between six and 12 years.

Clinics are held every Saturday from 3.30pm-4.30pm and cost $10 per person.
