

Yarrabilba: Vet Hospital

Tamborine Mountain and Canungra Veterinary Surgeries are pleased to announce the commencement of the building, providing the same professional, personal and friendly service that current clients have enjoyed since Dr Paxton-Hall started the first practice at Tamborine Mountain 25 years ago.

Pet owners of Yarrabilba and surrounding areas will have a new architecturally designed Veterinary Hospital at the corner of Wongawallan Drive and Adlers Circuit, Yarrabilba. This fully equipped veterinary hospital will be purpose built and provide the highest standards of care for animals. The hospital is planned to open in mid-2017.

The two veterinarians, Dr Andrew Paxton-Hall and Dr Chris Corcoran had been working on the concept of the purpose to build this facility for several years.

"The veterinary hospital will be well equipped to cater for pets and animals providing expert care in a modern, air conditioned veterinary hospital.

"Experienced staff will be supported by the latest equipment to provide the best care and comfort for all pets, there will even be a cat boarding facility in air conditioned comfort. "The hospital will be very accessible and designated parking will make it easy for owners and animals to visit," he said.

General Manager for Communities in Queensland, Guy Gibson, said the opening of a veterinary hospital in the Adler Circuit commercial precinct was a major part of creating communities with the best facilities.

"The district centre offers great flexibility and is ideal for an array of showroom, commercial, and the service industry uses. It's a great opportunity for business operators to position themselves in what will be the vibrant hub of Yarrabilba."

Yarrabilba's first District Centre already includes a 3,300 square metres full line Coles supermarket (expected to open late-2017), IGA anchored convenience centre, Caltex service station incorporating a Star Mart convenience store, a medical and convenience centre and tavern.
