

To Whom It May Concern

My Taxation Accountant, who felt that I should be doing more with my income, perhaps through property investment and negative gearing introduced me to Glen Wambeek.

At the time Glen first came to see me I had already been invited to a number of seminars on negative gearing that pointed out the many benefits of investing in property and with promises of cheap air flights and door prizes.

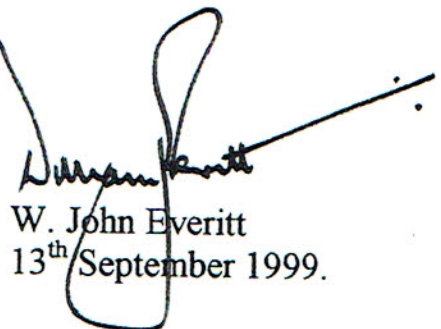

What attracted me to Glen was that he came with none of the glitz and glamour, just a knowledge of his business and a warmth and honesty about him.

Glen clearly outlined the properties that he could connect me with in Forest Lake in Queensland and also put me in contact with a very helpful financial advisor, although at the end of the day I chose to go through my own bank.

From the moment Glen showed my family and I the properties available, his introduction to a solicitor and my signing of the contract everything has progressed like clockwork.

Upon completion the house was rented within three days and the rental agents, as with everybody in the whole process, have been most helpful and extremely professional.

I have found Glen to be a very personable person who, because of his confidence in the product he offers, applies no sales pressure.
